Welcome To Alliance Girls' High School

The school was founded as the African Girls' High School by the Alliance of the Protestant Missions in 1948. Since then Alliance Girls' High School has continued to fulfill the vision of the founders which is the total development of the African girl: spiritually, morally, physically, mentally, and socially.

This is done to prepare one to fit into society and contribute appreciably in nation-building. The school also aims to mold the girls to develop excellence in their character and academic pursuits.

The achievement of the school's vision and mission is facilitated by the national outlook as the students are drawn from all the geographical areas of Kenya and thus their socio-economic background is as varied as it can be.

Present Challenge

Being a national school, the school has continued to expose the students to the reality of the Kenyan context, while opening doors to unlimited opportunities. Many students have passed through the school and impacted this great nation in various ways.

The incoming student is expected to understand the school vision and mission, internalize our values and participate in every aspect of the A.G.H.S. community's life. This prospectus gives general guidelines to make it easier for the newest members of the school to settle in and embark on achieving their dreams.

Our aim is to help the student adjust to the school fast and to enhance academic performance.

The department assists the student to have a healthy academic social, emotional and spiritual life.

Alliance Girls' High School Chaplaincy

Alliance Girls' High School Chaplaincy plays an important part in the school's life because the school was founded on Christian values and morals. The early Scottish missionaries from the Church of Scotland believed that Christ was the cornerstone of the school and that the life of the school centres on developing a firm foundation of Christian values in the students. The Presbyterian Church of East Africa, the school sponsor, continues to uphold the Christian values and morals of the school. Prayers are said at parade every Monday and Friday. All students attend Chapel on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Sunday service is also compulsory. Guest preachers and speakers are invited to participate in the worship service. The school respects and honours other faiths by facilitating Catholic Mass on Sunday afternoons, Muslim prayers are held at Alliance High School on Sundays and SDA worship services on Saturday afternoons. During the week there are Bible studies in small groups and in the houses as well as those conducted by Navigators International.

The Christian Union Fellowship meets on Saturday evenings for internal fellowships and on Sunday afternoons when invited Christian groups minister to students. Students have the opportunity to give community service to various groups. There are AGHS Sunday school teachers who teach in the various nearby churches. Students may offer their services to the Kikuyu Old people's Home, Kikuyu Hospital or participate in various fundraising activities and events to assist the needy.
